a new vision...

This is your book --a book of memories of your high school days. Knowing that in a changing world your memories go beyond high school, we have tried to meet your needs with a new vision. We have tried to give you a new vision of nature . . . of human nature . . . and of you.

The nature pictures in this book were taken on the community's American Gothic Trail, which has been dedicated by a group of people who care enough to give its real and natural treasures for your use, to all those who cherish the outdoors.

Besides filling this book with memories of the past, we have tried to make it a challenge for the future --a challenge to break away from your inhibitions and to be released by a harmony with nature.

Come into nature, and let the whispering leaves remind you of the laughter you shared with a friend, let the fallen dew remind you of the tears you cried, let the first green buds of spring remind you of the hope you had. And now, as you wander through this book, remember those times.

The Art Club, FTA, and Student Council all got together and sponsored a Grub Day on March 3. Winners of the grubbiest grub contest were Fred Kepler (first), Jeff VanDenBerg (second), and Chris Thomann (third). The band "Smoke" entertained at the evening's dance, which had been ingeniously decorated by the Art Club. The dance was well attended.

a song is not a song

Practice is the name of the game in chorus work. Under the tutorship of Mr. McClain the chorus performed three times last year: The Blackhawk Conference Music Festival on November 9, the Christmas vocal program on December 16, and the spring concert on April 6.

By the way, your eyes really aren't playing tricks on you in regard to the photograph below. Mr. Wayne Dailey, unofficial "clown" of Cardinal, put one over on the hurried photographer on the day the chorus picture was taken. Since the group is so large, it is divided into two sections; thus two pictures are taken in order to make one single, large photo of the entire group.

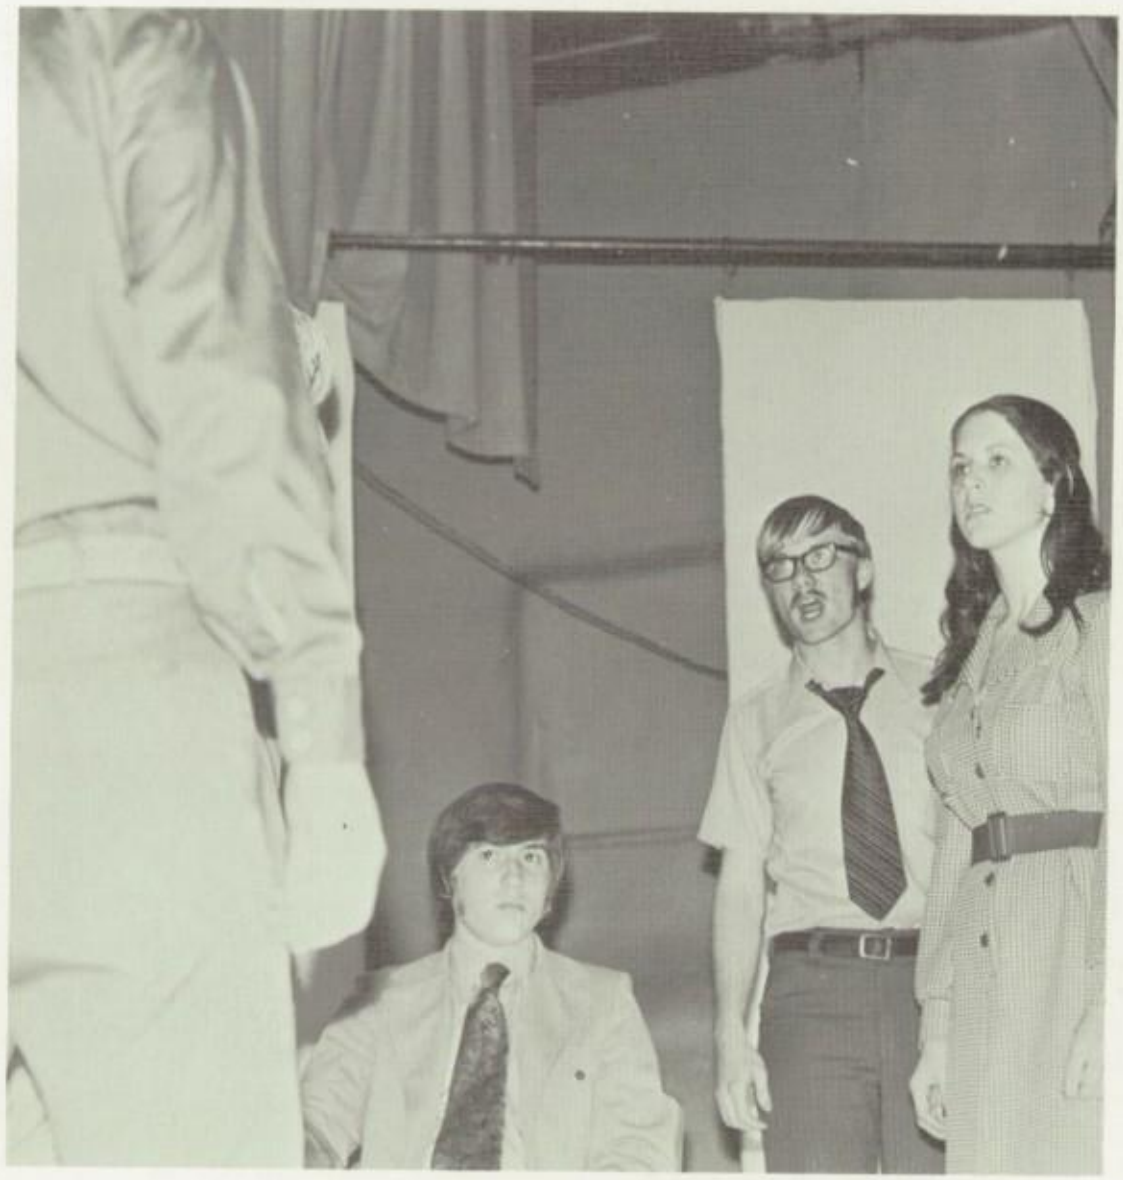
shadows in jurors' minds

"Twelve Angry Jurors" was certainly not the average drama club production. Shown on May 4 at Agency Gym, the play was a success, financially and dramatically.

The play's plot was centered around the murder of a father, the murder supposedly being done by his own boy. A switchblade was the weapon used. Through the direction of Miss Hostetler and co-directors Bonita Moore and Sheila Bowden, the play was a meatily dramatic welcome for the Cardinal audience.



A prejudicial Phil Pool screams out the challenge of bias and opinionation to a determined Ron Moore. Skepticism abounds in the play. A confused Rob Conrad (seated) and Beverly Gorman (foreman of the jury) suspiciously look to Ron's face for signs of indecision.

The officers of the club this year were: President-Charles Israel; Vice President-Greg Weller; Treasurer-Bev Gorman; Secretary-Bonita Moore.

"you can't believe a word they say."

An angry and determined Ron Moore argues that the boy is innocent. Ironically, through his intense and logical arguments, Moore is able to swing the jury from an 11-1 vote to a vote for acquittal. Around the table, Bill Baker, as an old man, Charles Israel, as an insensitive man, and Jodi Swanson, as an easily swayed individual, watch as Ron "waxes on".

Principal Dennis Spurgeon's second year has been extremely active. Changes have come quite swiftly.

The school year started off with a bang as each student was handed a sheet of schedules. Though confused at first, most of the students began to enjoy the changes as the year progressed.

The next attempt at a change was the bond issue. Plans for a series of badly-needed classrooms and a high school gym were put to vote. Unfortunately it failed. Plans are now being made for a new bond issue.

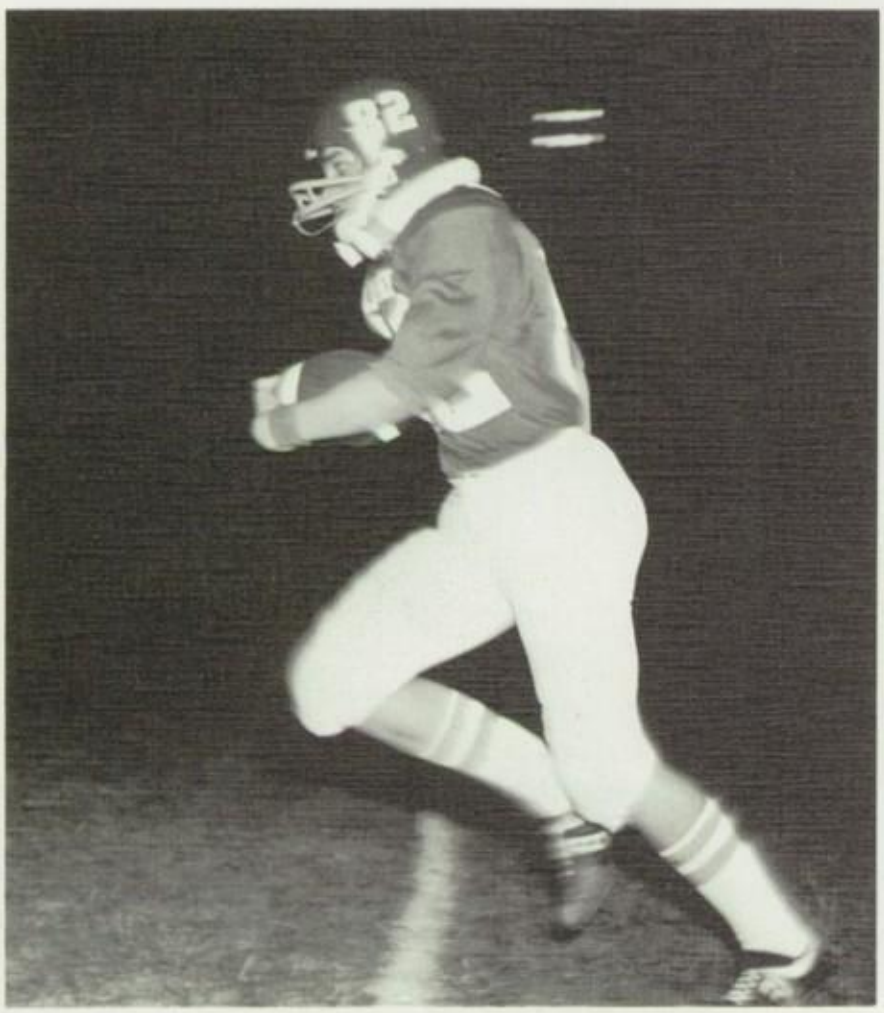
comet defense key factor



The Big Red Machine rolled to an 8-7 victory over Waco. On a wet and muddy field, the Comets came from behind and then held on to win the Conference Championship. Both teams fought hard to win with Waco taking a 7-0 lead on their first offensive play, but from there on, Cardinal dominated the game. Defense was the key word as both teams were rugged. The Comet defense was especially tough as they forced Waco to give up the ball on several crucial plays. The Cardinal score came in the third quarter. After having fumbled on the one yard line, the offense became fired up and started grinding out yards. Then with 4:51 left in the quarter, Al Taylor caught a 21 yard pass from Vince Sharp for the touchdown. It was a great game.

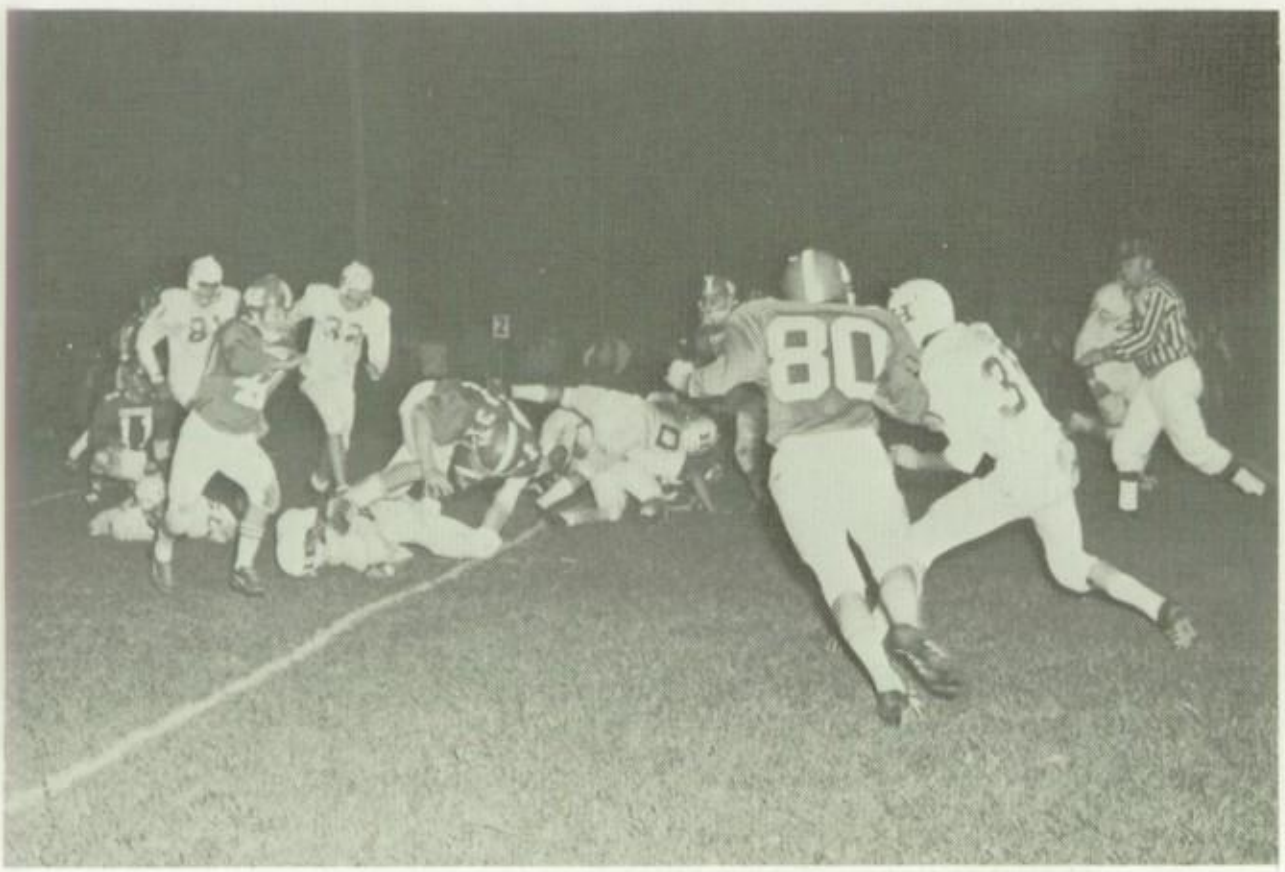
It's a foot race to the goal line as Chuck Klicker turns the corner and tries to outrun a defender. Trailing the play is quarterback Rick Scott. The Harmony game was a hard victory. Teamwork was one of the key factors during the season. An example of this is shown below. A hole is made in the offensive line for Jeff VanDenBerg, who is shown diving for a first down.



Two of the big factors for the team's success were Coaches Burnett and Burke. Both coaches devoted extra time to the squad to build a winner. Shown with the coaches during a tense moment is Jerry Cranston. Jerry came to the practices and often played for our benefit.

The following at the Cardinal games was tremendous. The spirit shown by the fans and the student body really helped the team.

This is where it counts. A perfect block, a good pitch to the wingback, and a little extra speed make a touchdown. Here Stu Wells makes the block. Chuck Klicker gathers in the pitch and is only a step from the goal line. This proved to be a really winning combination in several games as the Big Red Machine rolled up an 8-1 record.

When you have to stand on the sidelines and watch your team win without playing yourself, it can be pretty rough. It is especially bad if you are out for football and get injured in the very first game, thus missing the season. This was the situation in which Tim VanDenBerg found himself. Tim was injured in the first half of the North Polk game. He was hit while making a tackle and tore ligaments in his knee. However, he continued to give support to the team whenever he could. Better luck next year, Tim.

At bottom, Barb Taylor reaches for a jump while Denise McCarroll, and Lora Giltner wait for the tip-off. This year's team consisted of: Rita Slutts, Connie Archer, Linda Jones, Denise McCarroll, Loraine Fuller, Jean Peebler, Roberta Martin, Cyndy Brown, Barb Taylor, Sharon Kurka, Becky Terrell, Pam Frescoln, Elaine Moore. Cardinal wrestlers got off to a good start this year, but were unable to pull off a conference victory as they were defeated late in the season by tough squads from Pekin and Tri-County. Pekin went on to take the conference, with Tri-County placing second and Cardinal a close third, with a final 4-2 record.

At right, Marlon Winston is shown in deep concentration as he tries to get himself "up" to meet a tough opponent. Although wrestling is thought to be a sport of sheer strength against strength, mental conditioning also plays a very important part. The attitude of the player as an individual is the reason for an entire squad winning. Because of the singularity of each man's play in contrast to other sports like football, concentration and attitude are crucial. Marlon's pose is symbolic of why Cardinal did so well in wrestling this year.

The tables were turned in Blackhawk Conference play, however, as Chuck Klicker was Cardinal's only grappler to reach the finals. He decisioned Tri-County's Lynn White, 6-4. Klicker is shown at right in a comical position as he attempts to throw White in a earlier season meet with Tri-County.

Perhaps some of Cardinal's success was due to the use of this prayer: "Lord, we pray to you that all boys who wrestle tonight will wrestle without injury. We hope that you give us strength and will to do our very best. Amen"

It was a long and trying season for the Comets. Though the scores do not show it, we were in many games (Davis County, Waco, Harmony, Van Buren) until the final minutes. Each player probably remembers a single game where he played fine ball, but the games everyone will remember are the four victories: Pekin, West Burlington, Pekin, and Tri-County. Four victories may not be much to talk about, but they meant a lot to the players. It showed that our squad had the potential, but just never used it.

boys' track season challenging

Jerry Kitchen was the winner of the 440-yd. dash with Central as Vince Sharp comes up in third place. Except for this particular meet, the track season was rather gloomy this year.

Parson student teacher Cathy Jenson checks time with Mr. Crotty, Mr. Cranston, and the Central coach as Coach Red Burnett writes the times. This year's track team consisted of: Wayne Allen, Wes Higdon, James Kildow, Jerry Kitchen, Chuck Klicker, Dave Locke, Ron Moore, Paul Roberts, Rick Scott, Vince Sharp, Al Taylor, Dennis Thomann, and Mike Wells.

october homecoming is gala affair

Randy Calhoun and Marjean Loomis drive down main street of Eldon with the seniors' third-place float, "The Devil Made Me Do It."

A beautiful, smiling girl is needed for every successful parade. And Rita was one of the most beautiful additions to this successful parade. Large crowds of parents from Agency and Batavia joined those of Eldon in enjoying the kids, the colors, the floats, the noises of a Cardinal homecoming parade. Our foreign exchange student, Beatriz Espinal, was selected as queen of this year's homecoming.

The junior contribution of beauty in the parade was Georgia Clouse.

The sophomores tried an unusual way of pulling their float this year, building it around the concept of a medieval minstrel show. The float itself had a hearse-like structure. Though the construction was a little shaky, the float still placed second. Those doing the pulling were: Kevin Taylor, Roger Saner, Dave Locke, Doyle Eakins, and Jay Bowden.

With Misses Mary Conrad, Debbie Emry and Loraine Fuller in the lead, the Cardinal High School band struts down the street on a bright October afternoon as the townspeople and students look on.

The C.H.S. Band had plenty to strut about that night, as the team went on to victory against West Burlington.

The football team "shows the firemen how" as Kyle Henson directs the driver down the street.
Grade school children colored the parade with buntings, costumes, and enthusiasm. A little disorganized, they were still an integral part of the parade.

The Art Club won first prize in the club class as they came up with a novel float-puller, a hearse and even a more novel float, a mixing bowl.

Joyce Garber and Joy Morrow inspire the rest of the cheerleaders for the big homecoming game.

over "flames of the past"

Rita Slutts was selected from a slate of six candidates to reign over this year's prom. She was chosen by the "Mod Squad" television team. Rita, a senior, lives in Eldon with her parents, one sister, and two brothers. She excels in athletics and getting the most enjoyment out of life. Other candidates for prom queen were Mary McKeever, Loretta Morain, Denise McCarroll, Becky Heminger, and Peg Hamilton.

prom: a study of people and People's reaction to having their photographs taken vary considerably --especially at a junior-senior prom. Apathetic. Sad. Happy. Surprised. Mischievous. Suspicious.

The band? "Smoke". The singer? Beautiful --voice and looks.

As the royal couple dances on, Mike Wells holds Loretta Morain tightly while Dennis Thomann discusses world problems with Mary McKeever.

Marlon Winston, the unofficial master-of-ceremonies, watches a smooth band peel out the music. A tired Cyndy Brown tries to cool off. But Nick Adams isn't interested in cooling off so much as wondering at the gall of that photographer. Surprisingly, the camera-man kept his hands firm enough to get a very sharp picture.

King Alan Taylor and Queen Rita Slutts smilingly look on as their prom begins to draw to a close. Denise McCarroll grins at the antics of camera-man Phil Pool.

The prom ends. Empty Pepsi cups. A candle slowly burning out. The flame winking . . . winking . . . out.

is "giving" the source of "the good life"?

This year's ninety-two Seniors expressed their feelings toward life through the original motto, "We make a living by what we get, but we make a life by what we give." The class chose purple and white for graduation colors.

Class officers were: Randy Calhoun (President), Peg Hamilton (Treasurer), Loretta Morain (Secretary), and Chuck Klicker (Vice-President). Sponsors were Mrs. Emry and Mr. Sharp.

Bonita Moore, Annual Editor
Janice Gibb, Associate Editor
Ron Moore, CRIER Editor
Bill Baker, Associate Editor
Sharon Bowden, Sheila Bowden, Randy Calhoun, Lisa Cope, Charles Israel, Dan Whitmore, Tom Hixson, Christine Miller, Jennie Riehm, Vince Sharp, Sponsor, Mr. Braunger.

We have to be leaving
we've got mountains to conquer oceans to cross
ideas to learn thoughts to say
people to meet people to know
times to be childish
times to grow
but we will always remember part of our lives
the start of our lives
the love of nature
friendship, sorrow, laughter...

we have to be leaving....
